From the Chair

Origins

Chairman's 'O' Quiz:

1. In what country and in what year did the first recorded orienteering competition take place?
2. What is the Orient?
3. What is the opposite of orient?
4. What is the Scrabble score for 'orienteering'?
5. When was electronic punching used for the first time in a major event?

If you can't answer the questions, don't dash to Google, read on.....

My youngest son, Alasdair, home from university over the Easter period, requested a game of Scrabble one evening after dinner. This followed some reminiscences of childhood family games on cold winters' evenings. It may also have had something to do with trying to impress his girlfriend based on false recollections of his ability to play the game. During the game 'orient' was placed on the board and so ensued a discussion of the possibility of someone making 'orienteering' and what it would be worth. With eleven of the twelve letters worth '1' and the 'G' '2', the value is quite poor for such a long word, without a double or triple word score.

No-one could explain how the word 'orienteering' became associated with the sport that was perceived to have originated in Scandinavia, where it was presumably given its name. The original meaning of orient was related to the rising Sun and was thus a fixed directional point. It has now a much wider meaning as any fixed or known direction of the points of the compass. There was some speculation as to the consequences of using the setting Sun rather than rising Sun to give 'occident' and 'occidenteering'. Despite all of this the necessary 'eering' was absent from everyone's rack of tiles and as always, Janet went on to win the game with some judicious placement of the last few tiles on her rack, much to Alasdair's dismay.

It did leave me wondering about the origin of the very English sounding word 'orienteering'. So with the help of Google, Wikipedia and Czech Centre for Orienteering History, but alas not the British Orienteering website, the answers soon became clear if not readily understandable. The sport probably developed from Scandinavian military training with the first recognised event taking place near Oslo in 1897. The course length was 19.5km with only 3 controls and a winning time of 107 minutes. Apparently, the Scandinavians gave the sport the name 'Orienteering', which is probably the only word from that part of the world I have managed to pronounce properly; this despite many visits to Ikea. Electronic punching was used for the first time in the 1994 World Championships in Norway using the Reglyn system.

In an Olympic year, what of our sport making it into future games? Probably very little since it is considered to lack spectator and television appeal, though the development of Sprint 'O' may give it a better chance in the future. Ski 'O' was given serious consideration for the Winter Olympics, but early enthusiasm seems to have melted away.

I would like to promote canoe 'O', which is great fun, though requires some additional investment in kit and probably has significant travel implications, particularly for those of us who live in the east, or should I say orient!

HALO(ish) victory in Welsh Champs

The 2008 Welsh Champs held in March on the Gower had a strong HALO connection in the M65 category. Former HALO member Frank Ince, now SWOC, continued his excellent form by winning the M65L. Frank, once of Cottingham, was a part of HALO's winning Compass Sport Trophy team of the late 80's. Beverley's HALO man, John Butler running for SBOC, made it a clean sweep of the 65's by taking the Short Course title. Good to see John back after a 12 month absence with a knee injury.

HALO LINCOLNSHIRE POACHER

The 11th. Year of the Lincolnshire Poacher Trophy has now started. With electronic punching and pre marked bagged maps, it must be one of the best, if not the best, value for money local series in the U.K. The well tried formula remains the same with 2 courses of the cross country variety with an additional newcomers course where possible.

2008 sees a welcome return to an area last used by Poacher in the late 1990's. After protracted discussions with the Land Agents, a large reduction in the access charge has allowed us to use Elsham again on a Wednesday evening. Experienced Poachers will recall the Flying Finn, Erkki Kivisto, taking the Masters Trophy in the year Elsham was last used. 2008 also includes a new area. Brocklesby Park appears in the fixture list with the kind permission of the Earl of Yarborough. Those who were at the Brocklesby Country Fair in 2006 will recognise some of the area which is a mixture of parkland and woodland.

This year sees the introduction of a new age group trophy on the long course; Ultra Vets-70+, to reflect the changing profile of British orienteering! Early betting is on the evergreen Mark Tyszka, though SYO's Pat O'Grady and Keith Foster, both regular Poacher entrants, cannot be discounted. There may be others on both sides of the river who are approaching this magic age. As a result of this, the Masters and Super Vets groups have been standardised at 50+ and 60+ respectively.

The Lincolnshire Poacher Trophy on the long course for the overall winner has been held by Beverley's Dean Field for 3 out of the last 4 years, and he will be the pre-race favourite. Likely to threaten as usual will be the current Masters Champion Neil Harvatt, LOG young gun Liam Harrington and DVO's Paul Beresford. A dark horse is the improving Paul Murgatroyd from Lincoln, after a promising 2007 Poacher debut. With competitors only able to take away one trophy, there are some interesting possibilities in the other categories, particularly on the short course.

POACHER 2008 KITE RETRIEVAL

After making a successful trial in 2007 the rota of regular participants will be in place again in 2008. If you can add to your squad by commandeering others this will quicken the task. Feel free to swap with others if you are not going to be there on your allocated evening. Pete Kullich

The Poacher

(with apologies to S.T.Coleridge)

At Pillar Woods did Peter K a mighty series instigate,
Where John and Mark and Mary ran
Through woodland fathomless to man
As far as Newsham Gate.

And then his realm he did expand
To Broughton Woods and Swallow Vale,
To Otby and to Primrose Hill,
To Nettleton and Brompton Dale.

By gentle hint (or twisting arm)
A team of planners he amassed,
And now the Poacher's fame has spread,
As ten great seasons now have passed.

So come and join us if you can
On Wednesdays before it's dark,
Discover knolls and ditches new,
Run fast times and make your mark

Where deer abound and buzzards fly,
Where bluebells grow (if you've time to look)
In woodland fast and brashing-free –
You'll be amazed at the time you took!

Dinah Tyszka

Event Reports by Brian Ward

25th February, CLARO Regional, Brimham Rocks

I did NOT want to go! My memories of Brimham are of generally stumbling about in knee deep heather hunting amongst the vaguest of features for the elusive ( right! ) control marker! So, what a surprise. We were kept away from the heather and in the more runnable parts of the area ( I didn't know they existed! ) and the navigation came ( as a relief ) fairly easily. It was very cold though, but we survived to tell the tale!

16th March, NOC District, Thieves Wood

A couple of weeks of non-orienteering – and you could tell! I felt so rusty, making very silly errors in, what is generally, a straight-forward area. Very gently undulating with a very good track network to take you around any grot ( not much, as it happens! ), this was a nice re-introduction ( other than the time I lost! ) to the big “O”.

21st-24th March, J.K. Festival

Saturday – Individual Day One – Leith Hill.

Now, I'm NOT making any excuses here – I had a poor run, I admit it, I was far too negative in my route choices and lost silly bits of time – like going from 12 to 14 before 13! But I found the planning to be very unsatisfactory, a story repeated on many courses ( the advantage ( dis-advantage? ) of RouteGadget ). I can't even say that, had I had a good run, I found the planning to be very good. We spent too much time hunting for tiny complex contour features often buried in amongst the brambles – NOT fun!

Sunday – Individual Day Two – Ashdown Forest.

Better terrain ( or rather, better use of, terrain ), but I still under-performed. I had worried up to about 2 weeks to go about my ankle and groin problems, but they were fine, so I can't quote those as being the problem! I think it was a confidence thing, probably injury related, in as much as I hadn't done as much background work as I would have liked, but, had I had the opportunity to, would I have even got this far ( remembering last year when I really put in some quality work then had a bad calf injury and couldn't train in the last 3-4 weeks prior to J.K. ). It's a fine balancing act – and as yet as a “super (!!)-vet” one I'm still to get right!

Monday – Relay – Eridge Old Park

I think I've found my niche. Being out for 70 minutes on Saturday and Sunday seemed like a real chore, today's 35 minute blast was just the ticket! I like mass-starts, it really makes you concentrate, and if you don't run your own race you are soon undone! We had the worst of the weekends snow today, I think Mary was out in the very worst of it – but, being Mary, she bravely soldiered round, only to find Charlotte had opted for a micro-mass-start ( of one ) so as not to have to hang around too long in the very wintry conditions!

30th March, EBOR District, Hovingham South Wood

This area hasn't stood the ravages of time particularly well. I remember running here as a junior on a regular basis, fast flowing forest, a real treat – not any more! I really found this hard work despite “only” running Blue, but I prefer to be out for less than an hour, as I said above, it seems to suit me a lot better! Brambles and brashings, not a great combination, indeed – as the mapper / planner notes pointed out, the clear felled seemed to provide the best running, some things never change though – invisible “Robert's mapping” vegetation changes, don't you just love ‘em!!!

5th April, OD, British Middle Distance Champs, Hopwas Woods

Here was a little treat, the JK Relay area from 2005, a mix of runnable / slow run ( mainly due to low vegetation ) forest dissected by a few steep sided valleys. I'm not sure if “middle distance” races are suppose to have a lot of controls, but the 17 we had in our 4.4km race didn't seem excessive! I'm going through a phase at present of “losing it” on just one control in a race – same here, generally a good run spoilt by one silly lapse, all the more costly when you aren't out in the forest for very long!

6th April, SYO District, Sandall Beat

I like Sandall Beat! It's close to home, generally runnable, and with decent planning you can run straight. We did have a couple of legs where there was no option but to “blast” ( not that I'm doing that, you understand! ) down a LONG track / path route, but mostly you could cut corners and run on compass, through, rather than round, the wood. Spot On! Again, one ( parallel ) error ( 2 minutes ) and you can kiss good-bye to 3 or 4 places in the pecking order, hey-ho, that's the way it goes sometimes!

13th April, AIRE District, Bramham Park

It didn't look promising along the M62 – torrential rain! Fortunately when we arrived it was a little more than light drizzle, but still, to be on the safe side, I popped in a pair of contact lenses, just in case!

There was a big gap between Green ( at 4.3km ) and Blue ( 7.9km ). My initial thoughts were – why isn't Blue actually Brown and why haven't they put in a ( new ) Blue at around 6.5km?

This was later explained by the planner who had to do a quick re-think 2 weeks prior to the event when permission for a large area of woodland to the west of that used, was withdrawn. With a winning time of 35:28 anyway, this was perhaps a reasonable compromise on the planning side!

The “Blue” at 7.9km and 165 metres was run over a mixture of generally runnable, but steep, woodland, and lightning fast open parkland. We had 2 “non-timed” sections, the first being from the start kite to the first control ( 400 metres ) and the second on crossing a busy minor road from the west side back into the east ( the main area of wood / parkland ). An enjoyable, if at times muddy, experience!

HALO Committee Notes - March meeting

- 1) £100.00 to be given to Henry Rayment for his chosen charity “Wish upon a Star” for use of Pillar Woods
  - 2) Concern that Poacher planners / organisers goodwill in being used up. They should not have to subsidise competitors. Effect of this & new BOF levy to be determined before 2009 series details are finalised
  - 3) Clubmark progress:- Development plan needed & coaching started
  - 4) Unhappiness expressed at the distribution of profits from the JK 2007. Before HALO offers to help at a multi day Event, budget & profit sharing needs to be agreed.
  - 5) Mapping of schools continues apace. Goole & Pocklington are almost complete and a Teachers' Course in the East Riding is planned for April 2nd.
- Brigg Town and Central Park + POC,(Permanent Orienteering Course) Scunthorpe are almost complete and North Lincs Council would like some sort of inaugural event to publicise these. Perhaps request a link from the NLC web-site leisure services to our web-site?

Wanted: Your views about the HALO website

The New HALO website has been up and running for a year.

Pete Shew (Tel: 01652 651246 Email: pete@shew.org) would love some feedback : Is it fit for purpose? Are there features that are missing, or difficulties with navigation? This is your chance to provide some input.

Trials have been carried out with group emailing through the site facilities; if successful this should be up and running fairly soon.

Editorial - John Fulwood

Thank you again to all those who have contributed. Remember this is your magazine, so please keep the copy flowing.

We have now entered the time of the year for Local Orienteering to blossom. The Event structure through the year is a strange affair. The Autumn/Winter period is classically the Orienteering "Season" culminating in the British Champs held late April / Early May. This period is in itself disrupted because of access difficulties for woods where game shooting takes place. The distribution of Events is also very patchy, so that in February there only seemed to be Regional Events on the calendar. Hardly a way to introduce newcomers to the sport. In what was once considered the quiet season,- late spring / summer is now the busiest time for offering local, challenging Events such as the Poacher and the LOG summer series. This seems to me to be the ideal mix of accessible evening Events with close competition and the opportunity, at low cost, for newcomers to join in. This is a great way to regularly get out into the woods in preparation for the summer climax - the Celtic multiday Event - this year in Wales.

Newcomers are always welcome at these local Events - advertise to your friends: hopefully (if I can get it sorted) they can also be found on Whercanwego.com.

Keep the articles & pictures coming.

A reminder that HALO NEWS is On-line at www.halo-orienteeing.org.uk

If you are happy to view, or download / print from the website instead of receiving a hard copy by snail mail, then please let me know by e-mail.

Savings on printing, stationery, postage will all help the club funds!!!!

HALO Fixtures & Officials to April 2009

Listed below are HALO events up to Oct 2009, together with the names of those members who have agreed to officiate. (This list excludes Poacher 2008 Events) If you can help by volunteering to fill any of the other main posts, please contact our Fixture Secretary, Neil Harvatt (neil@neilharvatt1.orangehome.co.uk). This help will be much appreciated and will also allow some of the regular officials to fully take part in our events.

If you can't fill an official role but are able to help on the day for any event, then please contact the organiser for that event. Even if you can't help during an event, you could still contribute by volunteering to collect some of the controls in. (This is a valuable way to improve your orienteering skills, finding controls with no time pressure – you should have to pay for the privilege!! )
